

Thomas Lin - Abstract

Low back pain is the most common health problem. It is a complex disease whether it is viewed from the perspective of traditional Chinese medicine or Western medicine. Based on my own experience and the knowledge I have learned, I am here to discuss with you the pathogenesis, clinical classification, and conventional treatment methods of common low back pain.