Description:

One of the things I love about Biofield Tuning is the ability to treat the chakras, which we do, of course, out in the 'Field'. Being an acupuncturist for almost 30 years now, I also like treating the chakras 'on the body' using various acupuncture points and channels/meridians. This gives me the ability to treat the chakras from multiple angles, thereby enhancing the effects of the treatment and the benefits for the patient. As I have further refined these treatments or activations, it has come to my realisation that I needed to get this out into the natural medicine healing community. These workshops are the product of that desire.

Across both workshops you will be taken through six individual chakra activations (third eye and crown chakras are treated together). There will also be four activations included that will target ALL the chakras. This is done via a Chinese medicine channel system called the 'Eight Extraordinary Vessels'. So how does this look across the two workshops?

Each chakra will be discussed briefly in terms of their relationship to Chinese medicine. We will look at how the chakras can be used for various disorders in the body. We will also include a short discussion on the eight extraordinary vessels so you get a better sense of their value in treating the entire chakra energy system.

The activations themselves will consist of tuning fork application:

- On the body – using a range of different acupuncture points
- In the field
- In the constructs.

Part 1 includes five activations across three days. These are:

- Root chakra activation
- Solar Plexus chakra activation
- Heart chakra activation

- Conception/Central Vessel (Rèn Mài) and Governing Vessel (Dū Mài) activation to treat the entire chakra energy system.
- Yáng Qiāo Mài and Yīn Qiāo Mài – Heel Vessel activation for ALL chakras

Part 2 includes five activations across three days. These are:

- Sacral chakra activation
- Throat chakra activation
- Third Eye and Crown chakra activation
- Belt/Girdle Vessel (Dài Mài) and Penetrating/Thrusting Vessel (Chōng Mài) activation to treat the entire chakra energy system.
- Yáng Wéi Mài and Yīn Wéi Mài – Linking Vessel activation for ALL chakras.

These workshops are designed to give you more tools for your treatment tool kit. Whether you are a newbie to tuning forks or an old hand, you get more layers to your tuning fork treatments, giving you more options when it comes to helping to heal your patients. These activations are truly remarkable, and I am confident that your patients will agree. Please join me for this extraordinary workshop course!
